MESSAGE FROM THE FOUNDER'S DESK

MR. ADVIK JHAMB FOUNDER OF VELCON 2026

Dear Delegates & Viewers,

Velcon Model United Nations 2026 was established with the vision of fostering meaningful youth engagement, diplomacy and dialogue. Over the last few months, it has evolved into one of the most respected student led platforms in the Delhi NCR region, providing young minds with the opportunity to develop confidence, leadership and a deeper understanding of global affairs.

Velcon Model United Nations 2026 invites students from diverse academic and cultural backgrounds to come together for an intellectually rigorous and enriching conference experience. The upcoming edition introduces a carefully curated range of committees and agendas that reflect the most pressing challenges of our time, including climate change, digital privacy, global health and international security. These discussions are designed to encourage critical thinking, collaboration and solution oriented debate.

Delegates will engage under the guidance of experienced chairpersons, mentors and subject matter experts who are committed to maintaining the highest standards of academic integrity and procedural excellence. Through structured debate, negotiation and diplomacy, participants will be challenged to broaden their perspectives and refine essential skills that extend beyond the conference halls.

Velcon Model United Nations 2026 aims to cultivate informed global citizens who lead with empathy, integrity and purpose. We look forward to welcoming passionate students ready to engage, learn and contribute meaningfully to global discourse.

Welcome to Velcon Model United Nations 2026!

WHAT ARE MUNs?

A Model United Nations (MUN) is an academic simulation of the United Nations, where students assume the roles of diplomats, world leaders, and policy representatives. It is an experiential learning platform that allows young individuals to understand the intricacies of global governance, international diplomacy, and multilateral negotiation through hands-on engagement. In an MUN, participants — known as delegates — are each assigned a specific country, portfolio, or political figure to represent in a designated UN committee.

The process mirrors the actual workings of the United Nations. Delegates make speeches, form alliances, draft resolutions, and propose amendments — all while adhering to parliamentary procedure, diplomatic conduct, and formal negotiation protocol. The aim is not simply to win debates, but to build consensus, resolve conflicts, and create viable, well-reasoned solutions that reflect a balance of national interest and global good.

WHAT ARE MUNs?

However, an MUN is far more than an academic exercise — it is a transformative educational experience. It cultivates critical 21st-century skills such as:

- Public Speaking: The ability to communicate ideas clearly, confidently, and persuasively before an audience.
- Research and Analysis: Understanding complex international issues, global institutions, and geopolitical relationships.
- Leadership and Teamwork: Building alliances, negotiating with peers, and finding collaborative solutions under pressure.
- Critical Thinking and Diplomacy: Learning to approach disagreements with logic, empathy, and tact.

Through these experiences, students not only learn about global politics but also develop a mindset of empathy, awareness, and responsibility. They discover the importance of cooperation over conflict and diplomacy over dominance.

At its core, an MUN is not just about simulating the United Nations — it is about experiencing the power of dialogue.

For every participant, it is a journey of personal growth — one that shapes confidence, intellect, and leadership. In short, a Model United Nations is where tomorrow's leaders learn the art of understanding before being understood.
